Football Stars Win Citation As Blue Key Men of Month

WITH HEADS UP, Jerry Albin and Dick Heinen, Blue Key men of the month, look toward the future.

Jerry Albin and Dick Heinen have been chosen as the Blue Key Men of October in recognition of their accomplishments as football players at MSC.

"It is a pleasure to work with young men of this type. They are good trainers, good students; they are always willing to give something extra. They are dedicated athletes." This was the comment of Coach Ivan Schottel when asked about the sports records of these outstanding college men.

A 6-0, 180 pound junior from Independence, Mo., Jerry Albin has been playing halfback for three years at MSC. He is a "good team man, has fine reactions, and a very competitive spirit," reported Coach Schottel.

Highlight of Albin's football career this season came in the Warrensburg game, where he played an outstanding game after being shifted to the offensive team. Albin has also lettered twice in baseball and recently turned down a New York Yankee baseball contract in order to finish his college competition in football next year.

A physical education major and business minor, Albin is a member of the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity and a counselor in the boys' dormitory.

Dick Heinen is a 6-1, 220-pound senior from Algona, Ia., who played football at St. Benedict's his freshman year and for the last three years has been a center, defensive end, and tackle at MSC.

"Heinen is strong in competition, rough and sturdy, and asks for no quarters," said Coach Schottel, adding: "His parents may well be proud of this well-trained, outstanding student, one of 11 children."

A social science major and history minor, he is a member of the Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity.

Albin and Heinen are attending MSC on football scholarships.

Christmas Bird Count Planned for January

The recently formed Maryville Audubon Society has scheduled its next field trip as a Christmas bird count Jan. 2.

The Audubon group consists of nearly 50 members and is growing. They have had one field trip, west of Maryville, in which they observed the habitat of different wildlife.

David Easterla, member of the Northwest Missouri State College biology department and sponsor of the group, explained, "The Audubon Society is open for everybody, not just college students. Our objectives are to learn about all phases of nature."

Nurse-Coed Has Double Work On Duty, in Class

One Northwest Missouri State coed is also carrying on a professional career.

Registered nurse Margaret Frueh attends NWMSC along with doing regular duties at St. Francis Hospital. Graduating in August, 1965, from St. Mary's Hospital School of Nursing, Kansas City, Miss Frueh attended Donnelly Junior College in Kansas City, Kas., to gain freshman hours.

Returning to Maryville, her original residence, she is attending MSC to gain credit hours toward a BS in nursing degree. Miss Frueh hopes to transfer to either the University of Missouri or the University of Kansas next year to complete her training.

In the future, she would like to work in psychiatry or med-nursing.

Classes Visit Institution

Thirty-three MSC students journeyed to Clarinda, Ia., Nov. 29 to visit the Mental Health Institute.

Science Department Activities

Dr. Richard Hart, instructor of biology, has been to Mississippi making arrangements for student trips to the Marine Biology Station in Ocean Springs.

The week-long trips will be made during the Christmas vacation or the semester break. While absent from MSC, Hart will also attend the national meeting of the Entomological Society of America.

Dr. Norman Rabjohn, a chemistry instructor from the University of Missouri, will speak to the Junior Affiliates of the American Chemical Society and the Tri Betas Thursday evening at a dinner meeting.

The speaker will explain graduate work at MU. He will talk with chemistry students at a day-time session on "Chemistry of Polymers."

Dr. Edward L. Farquhar, assistant professor of chemistry, spoke to the Junior Affiliates on "Infra-red Spectroscopy" at their November meeting.

Chemistry instructors at MSC recently attended the Regional meeting of the American Chemical Society at the University of Missouri, Kansas City.

Students accompanying them were Soren Sorenson, Rash, Leslie Dawson, and Richard Davis.

Dr. Sam Carpenter and Dr. Harlan K. Higginbottom, assistant professors of chemistry, attended a pharmacy department meeting at the University of Missouri, Kansas City, in November.

Weighty Idea:

Trim Pounds To Get Job

Apparently the cafeteria is doing more than its job, because Mrs. Luella Thate, assistant director of Perrin and Roberta Halls, has started a reducing class for girls living in the dormitories.

Mrs. Thate organized the class because she feels that appearance is very important when applying for a job.

"Over 60 girls were present for the first meeting, but only 20 showed up for the second meeting. The girls are exercising at the second meeting. Could this mean there are many girls who are overweight but only a few who are willing to do something about it?" of the 20 queried.

Marcia Baner, MSC sophomore, leads the group. The class meets every Wednesday evening at 10:35 in the Roberta Hall recreation room.

International Living Leader Talks With Campus Personnel

Bill Maclay, representative of the Experiment in International Living, met with campus leaders Nov. 18 to discuss possibilities of students in the MSC campus being a part of the program. Those meeting with him were: Taylor, student body president; Sue Miller, Pan-Hellenic chairman; Jane Couch, S president; Phil Burmeister, Inter-Fraternity Council chairman; Salley Craven, and Peggy Herron, Missouriian editorial board.

The group discussed the program of Experiment in International Living which was established in 1932 by Dr. Donald B. Watt. The main office is in Putney, Vermont.

There are four regional offices in the United States, and the program has representatives in more than 45 countries on six continents. As stated in one of its pamphlets: "The Experiment's programs are based on the conviction that one best learns to understand another people and their culture by living among them as a member of a family."

Students who travel to another country live with a family for a month. During the second month the student travels throughout the country with one of his "host family" members. The concluding days of the tour are spent in a major city of the country.

The Experiment in International Living has outbound programs as well as incoming programs. Those wishing to be a part of one of the programs must send in applications to the headquarters. A committee, by studying answers to various questions on the applications, choose those who may train for the program. Nearly all who complete the entire application procedure are accepted.

Regular groups go each summer to different countries. There are 10 persons in a group plus a trained leader. Ambassador programs are designed for individuals or groups who work to donate money for another person to make a tour. When the student returns, he gives talks or shows slides or movies about his tour.

Experiment in International Living also provides programs for special interest groups in such fields as education, engineering, Peace Corps training, and leadership.

Expenses may be paid by the individual, by organizations, or through loans and scholarships from the Experiment in International Living. Further information may be obtained by contacting one of the leaders who attended the meeting or by writing to Inquiries Secretary, The Experiment in International Living, Putney, Vermont, 05346.

Students Perform at District Library Workshop

IMPROMPTU ACTING resulted in a modernized version of "Goldilocks and the Three Bears" at the recent Assistant Librarians' Workshop. The students are Sheryl Drury (Papa Bear), Mercer; Narrator Madge Beam, Cameron; Nancy McKee (Mama Bear), North Nodaway; Linda Tighe (a tree), Park Hill; Nancy Schieber (Goldilocks), Jefferson, and Donna Davis (Baby Bear), Park Hill.

Original dramatizations added an entertaining feature to the Assistant Librarians' Workshop held Nov. 27 in the Union.

The meeting was attended by 90 participants from 14 schools in the Northwest Missouri District. Park Hill Junior High School in Kansas City was represented by 31 students and Cameron, Plattsburg, and Maple Park High Schools each had strong representation.

Dean Leon Miller welcomed the students and librarians to MSC. The librarians held a meeting as the students were divided into 10 creative dramatics groups. They were asked to write a skit, pertaining to some book they had read, which they would present to the others. Among the well-received skits were "Cinderella," "The Diary of Anne Frank," and "Goldilocks and the Three Bears."

After lunch the students saw a film entitled "Third Man on a Mountain" by Walt Disney, while the librarians held a second meeting.

Freshman Wins Trip to Chicago

Freshman Kurby Wiley, of Atman, has been selected to attend the 44th National 4-H Youth Congress in Chicago this week.

Wiley was one of 17. Wiley was chosen for his four years of outstanding work on tractor projects. He is also a two-year member of the Nodaway County tractor driving contest. Wiley is the sole operator of a 160-acre farm and helps his father farm an additional 160 acres.

Instructors Relax On Tennis Courts

Student tennis players looking for some real competition can find it in the form of several faculty members who play the courts regularly.

Dr. Grube and his partner, Mr. Silver, teamed up to prove the faculty's prowess by splitting sets with the intramural doubles champions.

On My Honor . . .

Once upon a time — but not too long ago — a bearcat strolled into the Den, set his books on a table, and went after something to eat. At the same time, another bearcat pushed his books onto the rack and filed through the lunch line. While the 'cats were away, some scavenger-type animal apparently took those books — apparently while other bearcats looked on . . .

In the classroom, — a student saw his neighbor cheating but didn't tell. Consequently, he got a lower grade and decided to try cheating, too. The bearcats who lost their books resorted to the same savage, jungle law, what could be called the Anything But the Golden Rule: Steal from others as you have been stolen from . . .

So those bearcats took someone else's books instead of reporting the loss and checking out new books. And they took the same apathetic attitude toward watching them, holding the same lack of direct concern among their peer group. The vicious cycle snowballed on and on . . .

The foster parent to all the bearcats said that the college would help them if they would help the college in such things as catching the cur who steals from his fellow man. He said there could be check rooms for books and coats but that those lines would be longer than the lunch lines.

The concerned parent also suggested the possibility of a guard but pointed out that such a guard, which would result in higher costs, would not be able to tell if a bearcat was picking up his books or someone else's. The 'cats, of course, could take their books to their dorms before going to the cafeteria.

But why should this perennial problem exist throughout American colleges? and American life? What kind of an honor code, what sense of values do people have who look on while an old man is beaten to death on a city street? Are we really such animals?

Dr. J. L. Lowe Participates
In White House Conference

Dr. James Lowe, professor of sociology at Northwest Missouri State College, has been participating this year in the White House Conference on International Cooperation, Washington, D. C.

The conference was called on Oct. 2, 1964, when President Lyndon B. Johnson declared 1965 to be International Cooperation Year in the United States in conjunction with a United Nations resolution.

In preparation for the conference, the President authorized a cabinet committee and also a National Commission on International Cooperation.

Both groups have actively studied 30 areas in which they believe the United States can improve its efforts toward operating with others, and the working committees on each topic have led morning and afternoon panel discussions.

Those attending the sessions participated in the discussion and the final reports and recommendations of the White House Conference will reflect their contributions. Leaders have included outstanding national leaders such as Norman Cousins, editor of "Saturday Review," and Dr. William G. Carr, executive secretary of the NEA.

A leader in civic and scholarly activities in Northwest Missouri, Doctor Lowe has played his own part in helping to bring about international understanding by helping found the Maryville People-to-People chapter of which he is vice president. He has also been chairman of the Maryville UN Day committee for three years and served the Trenton UN chairman for four years before moving to Maryville.

Doctor Lowe is state fund vice chairman for the American Red Cross, serves as trustee for the Missouri Architectural Society, is a board member of the Northwest Missouri Division of the Association for Social Welfare, is vice president of the MSC chapter of AAUP, chairman of the Admiration Committee of Otoe District Boy Scouts, and is in Rotary Club and the Nodaway County Historical Society.

At the White House conference Doctor Lowe has participated in the following conference discussions: Culture, Intellectual Exchange, Education, Health, Population, Welfare, and Urban Development.

Speakers at Dedication of DeLuce Arts Center
Reveal Highlights of History, Point to Future

Review of the past and prediction for the future of Northwest Missouri State College highlighted the dedication program for the Olive DeLuce Fine Arts Building.

Significant are the following quotations:

Dr. Blanche H. Dow — "May this building always remain a center in which are concentrated and focused efforts of men and women dedicated to the arts and to quality teaching. On the selectivity of what is taught depends the quality of education. . . .

"As a teacher, Miss DeLuce showed the gift of perception. She was able to arouse people to realize what is around them . . . to recognize what is good, what is better, and what is best in art . . . to know the difference between what is symmetrical and what is not, the difference between the lines of a good curve and those of a poor one . . . Miss DeLuce's particular attribute: She was an artist-teacher of art."

Dr. Burton L. Richey — "The late Charles L. Johnson was interested in many things outside of art. He had great concern for his family, community, and college. He never accepted any student as untrainable. . . .

"In the dedication of the theater in his name, we must look to the future. I am sure that Mr. Johnson would ask only that excellence in performance be the keynote of whatever is presented in this theater."

Miss Olive DeLuce — "My wish is that this building will be a mark along the way to an even greater influence in the arts in this territory and beyond."

Dr. Robert P. Foster — "We recognize the contribution of the Robinson family who gave to the college early in this century two blocks of land on which the Fine Arts Building stands. This family has made many contributions to the educational and cultural life of the college and this community. . . .

"Much praise goes to the present and past Boards of Regents who devoted many hours to making this building a reality; to the Herschman and Douglas firm of architects and to the Glaze Construction Company, who made it possible."

AAUP to Hold Smorgasbord
Sunday Evening in Union

The AAUP will have a Christmas smorgasbord at 6:30 p. m. Sunday in the Blue Room of the Union.

Food, fellowship, and informal singing will be featured at the night event. Mrs. Fred Hassenplug is president; Mrs. Harry Sheetz is in charge of reservations.

sible for the building to be occupied four months ahead of schedule and to Senator James Kelley and Representatives Howard Masters and H. F. Holland for their continued support of Northwest Missouri State College and its needs in the State Legislature."

Dr. J. W. Jones — "The plans for this building developed out of cooperative efforts on the part of Dr. John Smay, Dr. Ralph Fulsom, Charles Johnson, and Robert Sunkel, and the faculty members of their departments all working with the architect. The result is a classroom building that serves the needs of these three departments. . . .

As a much needed civic center for cultural activities, there is available a good foundation upon which other units can be added. . . .

"The realization of this building also reflects cooperation on the part of many people. . . .

"Northwest Missouri State College moves forward today in its influence on the cultural life of our part of the state with the dedication of this building. I am proud to share in this dedication and wish to assure all who have helped plan and realize it of the sincere appreciation of the students, the faculty, the administration, and the entire community."

AP Honors Go
To 3 Bearcats

Some of the highest honors that can be presented to a small college gridder have been given to three of the Northwest Missouri State squad.

The Associated Press has selected Dick Heinen, Bob Albanese, and Leo Papas as Little All-American performers.

Heinen, a 6-1, 225-pound senior from Algona, Ia., was named to the All-American defensive second team; Albanese, a junior from Providence, R. I., and Papas, senior from Sioux Falls, S. D., both made the honorable mention squad.

"Heinen," according to Coach Ivan Schottel, "was probably the best blocker in the MIAA, and he also was one of the most versatile performers in the league. He has the instinct to be in the right place to make the important play."

Albanese's pass receiving ability ranked him among national leaders throughout the Postscript . . .

Everett W. Brown, Director of Field Services, received a letter recently from Dr. Henggeler, vice president of the Northwest Missouri State Association. Part of it read:

"I want to congratulate you on the fine job you did on the St. Francis Hospital Fund Drive. You really the man who has needed for so long one person who has support of both the community and the college. I hope you will be willing to continue your positive leadership because the results certainly testify to your popularity. You have led both the college and community down the path of really substantial growth and development."

Redd, halfback Jim Blankenship, and quarterback Leo Pappas were voted to the second offensive squad. None of the Bearcats were selected for the second defensive team.

Roger Schlegel and Ed Byron, tackles; Bob Leach, defensive middle guard; Micky Thompson, fullback; Jerry Albin, defensive halfback, and Lonnie Hagan, back, received honorable mention berths on the honor squad.

'Big Band' Sounds Pervade Auditorium at Close of Tour

By Regie Turnbull

"One, two, three — Go!" So began the eleventh year of progressive jazz sounds at Northwest Missouri State College as Director Earle Moss set the tempo for the first musical composition last night.

Since the spring of 1955, Moss has fashioned groups at MSC with big band sounds in the tradition of Stan Kenton, Duke Ellington, and Les Brown. Moss, who has composed music for area bands, arranged some of the swing band music used by the MSC group.

Playing this week at six different locales, including Mount Alverno Academy; Rock Port; Hamburg, Ia.; Plattsmouth, Neb.; Red Oak, Ia.; and Shenandoah, Ia., the band ended its tour by exhibiting an exciting array of tone and talent. Reports indicate that each audience was pleased with the programs presented by the 17-member band and the nine-member vocal ensemble, the Undergrads.

Soloists Diana Wiley, Doug Jackson, Richard Peterson, and Larry Rollins drew much applause from the appreciative audiences. Miss Wiley sang "I Cover the Waterfront," Green, and "The Christmas Song," Torme.

Jackson's solos with the trumpet were "A Night in Tunisia," Gillespie, and "Groovin' High," Gillespie. Peterson was in the limelight with his trumpet playing "Young Man with the Blues," Osseer. Rollins presented a saxophone solo, "Purple Mist," Fenno.

Also well-received by the audience were the Undergrads' rendition of "Stompin' at the Savoy," Garland, and the band's own arrangements of the popular "Girl from Ipanema," Jobim; "Artistry Jumps," Kenton, and "Miserlou," Cavados.

Members of the Undergrads are Miss Wiley, Gayle Bradford, Martha Clothier, Reanne Johnson, Michael Miller, Ken-

NEWMAN CENTER CHAPLAIN, the Rev. Father James Crafton, celebrates Mass in the chapel at 434 North Dunn.

Mass Celebrated at New Chapel

Sunday marked the fourth time that The Rev. Father James Crafton had celebrated Mass in the new chapel in the Newman Center.

The chapel, which is U-shaped to coincide with the new liturgy of having the people around the altar, is decorated in muted tones of green, orange, and gold. The altar is accented by a backing of white masonite wormwood; the remaining walls are paneled in dark wood. The altar itself, made of antiquated wrought iron, is soon to be replaced by a modernistic wooden one. The chapel has a seating capacity of 80.

The chapel area also can be used as a conference room. Another conference room will be upstairs.

Plans for further development include a recreation room in the basement and a library dealing mainly with theology and philosophy.

The Rev. Father James Crafton is in charge of the center, which is open to anyone wishing to use its facilities.

GREEK LIFE

Russ Canon, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Grant City, to Pam Bollinger, Hopkins.

Charlotte Christoffel, Phi Mu, Aurora, Ill., to Mario Balettie, Phi Sigma Epsilon, St. Joseph.

As the Stroller wandered by the campus pond, he spied TKE pledges casting a lavaliered brother into the icy water. Later that evening, Yours Truly watched the pledge's counterpart being tossed into a cold shower in Hudson Hall.

Some freshmen show how really "fresh" they are. As the buzzers announced Thanksgiving devotions in Hudson Hall, three freshmen mistook the signal for a fire alarm and rushed down the stairs bundled in coat and towel.

The Stroller is puzzled over another coed who rushed out to a late night fire drill wearing slacks under her sleeping attire.

Had she received an alert by mental telepathy, or was she sleeping in frigid air? She tried to convince one of her dormmates that she always sleeps dressed in double attire.

'Good Guvs Cop Third Consecutive Intramural Championship

The "Good Guys" won again! For the third straight year this independent team emerged with the all-school championship in intramural football.

Their goal was reached this year, as it was last, by defeating the Zombies, a Phi Sigma Epsilon team, by a score of 20-7. The championship game was played at Rickenbrode Stadium. Both teams made it to the title play-off by winning their respective league tournaments.

The two teams played exceptional ball throughout the entire tournament, but weight and experience again paid off for the "Good Guys." Many of this year's players were on the original Good Guy team that won the title two years ago.

Wrestlers Eye Seventh Graceland Title

HOPEFUL OF EQUALING or surpassing last year's eighth place ranking in the NCAA College listings is the current MSC wrestling team. The grapplers, coached by Jerry Landwer and assistant Gary Collins, will be seeking their seventh straight Graceland Tournament crown Saturday at Lamoni, Ia. Mainliners expected to carry this year's load are Harvey Hallum, Jerry Mason, Ron James, and Al Packer.

After Intra-Squad, Tankers to Meet Washington, M. U.

To prepare for its first meets against Washington University and Missouri University teams today and tomorrow, the Bearcat swimming team divided for an intra-squad meet Nov. 19.

The "Splashers," composed of John Ridgeway, Frank Fisher, Steve Conner, Brian Nehlsen, Jon Eichelis, Jerry Peirce, Guy Fogel, and Phil Cox, beat the opposing "Dolphins," composed of Ed Smith, Linn Jones, Randy Hansen, Jay Milk, Mark Thomas, John Turner, and P. D. Fields, 50-34. Both teams showed strength, eclipsing four varsity records in the meet.

Both Splasher relay teams were under the record in winning the events. Guy Fogel, Ridgeway, Conner, and Peirce teamed up in the medley relay to knock nine seconds off the record with a 4:11.2 clocking. Eichelis, Fogel, Peirce, and Fisher got under the record in the freestyle relay with a 3:43.7 timing.

Steve Conner shaved six seconds off the old record in the 200-yard butterfly, swimming it in 2:42.5.

Mark Thomas swam in 2:29.8 in the 200-yard backstroke for the Dolphins' only record performance.

The tankers will challenge Washington University in St. Louis tonight, in what Coach Lewis Dyche rates as one of the three toughest meets of the season. Washington is a perennial swimming power in the area.

Tomorrow the Bearcats will meet the Missouri University Tigers in Columbia. Missouri defeated last year's squad, but Coach Dyche considers this year's much-improved team a better match for the Big Eight Conference power.

Schlesselman Stars In Sports Car Relay

John Schlesselman, driving a 1962 Triumph Herald, received first place in the Nodaway Valley Sports Car Club Poker Rally Nov. 21. Mary Kuhn served as Schlesselman's navigator.

Other winners include Keith Lamkins, driving a 1955 Triumph TR2 navigated by Gary Fefel, second place, and Ron Farrimond, driving a 1960 Austin Healy Sprite navigated by Susan Hurst, third place.

Entrants left from the Green Hills parking lot and covered a route of approximately 100 miles.

Sports Shorts

Five young men worked hard this fall to represent MSC well in a seldom acclaimed sport, cross country running.

Although hampered by having two of its runners leave the squad, the determined five that stayed had a successful 5-3 season, topping last year's mark of 4-3.

Coach Ryland Milner and the squad, consisting of Gary Castle, Ken Kavanaugh, Norman Johnson, Danny Reed, and Roger Stuck, deserve a big hand for a job well done.

Two of the three tri-captains of the Bearcat squad, Leo Papas and Jim Redd, played their last grid game for Northwest State in the season's finale.

Papas, a 5-11, 185-pound senior from Sioux Falls, S. D., has been All-Star quarterback of the MIAA the past two seasons. A transferee from Nebraska U his sophomore year.

Redd, a 6-3½, 225-pound tackle from St. Louis, has been a regular starter for three years and possesses both size and strength that have been much appreciated. Since coming to MSC from Kansas U, he has been a mainstay on the 'Cat line. Big Jim lived a lineman's dream in the game against Kirksville when he snatched the pigskin from the hands of the Bulldogs' star quarterback and ran 86 yards for an MSC TD.

The only returning member of the tri-captain set is Michael "Mickey" Thompson, a 6-1, 200-pound junior fullback from Hamburg, Ia. Although hampered much of the season by an elbow injury, Thompson remained a big threat to opponents on both defense and offense.

Bearcats Open Season By Upsetting Gorillas

Bearcat basketball made a thrilling takeoff for home fans Wednesday night in an 82-79 victory over highly acclaimed Pittsburg, Kas., State's Gorillas.

Excitement rose as Dave Remund, 6-6 center, finally made the shot that put the 'Cats ahead to stay, 65-63, with 7:46 left in the game. Earlier Jim Vollmuth freshman guard from Atlantic, Ia., had swished through a 20-foot corner shot to give the MSC team its first lead, 44-43.

The Gorillas, a leading team in the Central Interstate Conference, jumped to an early lead, but the Bearcats mustered scoring powers as seven men finished in the double figure column. Al Van Dyke racked up 17; Roger Nelson, 13; Vollmuth, 12; Mike Simon, Bob Marek, Ron Howitt, and Remund, 10 each.

The game was the beginning of what teams and fans hope will be a three-round victory for Northwest State this week.

In discussing the opener, Coach Dick Buckridge expressed his pleasure over the team's ability to overcome a big deficit. "I am glad to see that we have a team that didn't quit and has the quality of hanging on and making a comeback when the going is tough," he commented.

Buckridge is also pleased with the team's 43 per cent scoring accuracy from the field and its 70 percentage conversion on free throws.

The basketball season will get into full swing this weekend as Northwest Missouri State faces two strong teams, Peru State and William Jewell.

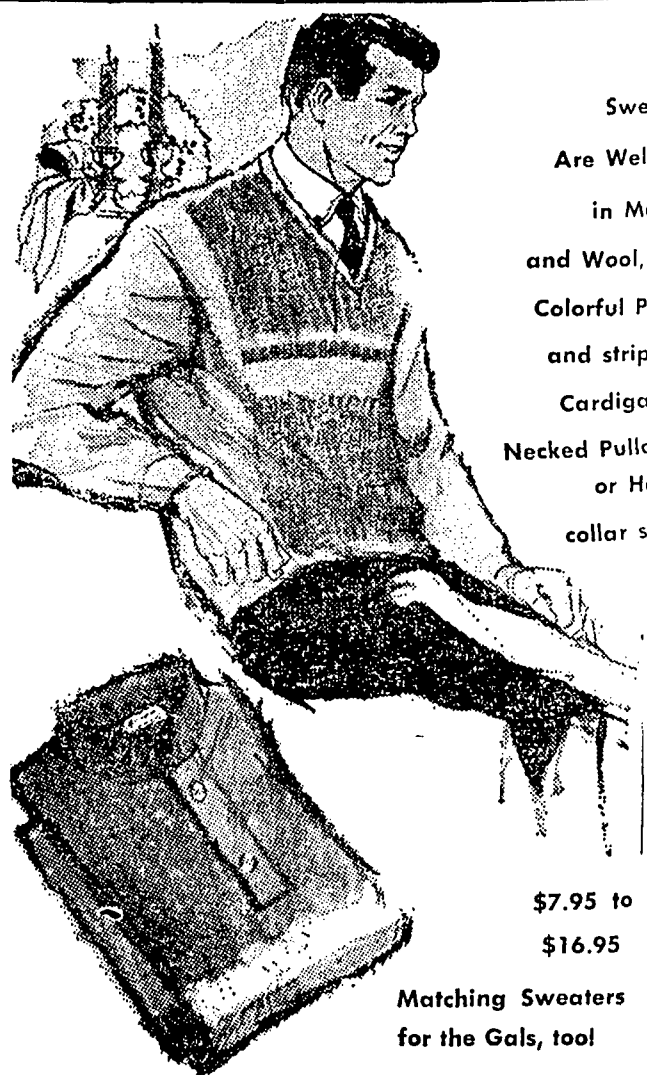

Maryville will travel to Peru, Neb., tonight to play the Bobcats, who return a veteran squad of 10 lettermen. Mike Harmon, 6-4 forward, who scored at a 16.5 percentage clip last year and 6-8 center Ron Snodgrass are expected to help make Peru a tough team to beat this year. Peru's previous season's record was 9-11.

Saturday night the Bearcats will host the William Jewell Cardinals in Lamkin Gym, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. The Cardinals tied with Missouri Valley for the MCAU championship title, during last season. Jewell has back five of the lettermen who helped them post a 17-11 record.

Among the outstanding Cardinal lettermen this season are honorable mention All-American Homer Drew, Larry Holley, and Bud Fisher. Outstanding prospects include 6-4, 205-pound forward Randy Stockbarger, 6-5 sophomore Don Maddox, and 6-2 freshman guard Rick Fette.

William Jewell forfeited to Maryville in the only contest between the two teams last season. The Jewell-Maryville rivalry is one of the oldest in Bearcat basketball history as it dates back to 1916.

The starting lineup for the Bearcats is expected to be chosen from among Dave Remund, Bob Marek, Joe Peirce, Jim Vollmuth, Al Van Dyke, Mike Simon, and Bob Tonnies.
